Dear Ms. Gray:

This letter is to inform you that your services will not be necessary as I am sure you realize since Ms. Ham entered the hospital on February 17, 2002. It is the guardian's decision to supply you with this notice effective on the date that her mother was placed into the hospital and since you were paid until the end of February, you should consider that advance payment as your severance pay.

It has come to our attention that several things are missing from Ms. Ham's house and we will be sending you a list of those items. Secondly, you are not authorized and it has been determined that you did in the past take Ms. Ham to healthcare providers that were unknown to the guardian, Kyle Hamilton.

It is further Ms. Hamilton's desire, since she is the guardian of her mother, that you not visit her at the hospital because every time you attempt to do so or do so, her mother is greatly upset.

Sincerely yours,

Michael Riley
